writing.

At the end of the school year, Auggie is going to be going away on a residential trip. It will be his first trip away from home!

How did you feel before your first residential?

How do you think Auggie is feeling?

This week, we will be giving advice to Auggie and his friends before their first residential visit.

Task:

Look at the pictures on the next page then write a list of what you think Auggie might need for his trip.

Task 2:

Come up with some advice for Auggie and his friends to make them feel less worried. Record your ideas using bullet points in your book.

Challenge: include some modal verbs in your advice e.g. you might want to... maybe you could...
