

Red or black?

What you need: A pack of cards.

How to play:

- One player guesses whether the first card will be red or black.
- If they are correct they get to guess if the next card will be higher or lower than the first.
- If they are correct they get to guess if the next card will be a number in between the first to cards or a number outside of the first two cards.
- If they are correct they win one hand.
- If they are wrong at any stage they complete 10 x of an exercise of their choice and the game begins again.
- The game ends when the player has won 10 x hands.
