

Mara

Mara, a teenage girl, wears rather large, thin-rimmed glasses. Her eyes, which are filled with determination, are intelligent and curious. She has mousy brown, straight hair with a short, messy fringe. She wears a purple, patterned aviator hat which is fleece lined and warm. Her hat's long ear flaps hide her short bob underneath. Mara wears a patchwork airplane on her stripy top and a pair of brown culottes. On her feet, she wears comfortable, purple high tops which she can run in, easily. Mara longs to be an airplane designer. She is resilient, which is shown by the fact that she doesn't give up despite having problems with her airplane designs. She is ambitious and driven because she perseveres, even when things aren't going her way.
